GEORGE W. PERKINS NOTED FINANCIER CLAIMED BY DEATH

Continuous Overwork Brings On Nervous Collapse And Death Follows Early Friday.

WAS ONE OF WORLD'S GREATEST FINANCIERS

Is The Man Who Persuaded
"Big Business" To Adopt Profit-Sharing Plan.

(By Associated Press)

New York, June 18.—George W. Perkins, financier, died at 2:15 o'clock this morning in the Stamford Hall Sanitarium, Stamford, Connecticut.

A statement by the dead financier's physicians, given out at Mr. Perkins' office, said death resulted from an attack of acute inflammation of the brain, the "result of complete nervous exhaustion due to intense and continuous overwork."

It became known June 11 that Mr. Perkins had suffered a nervous breakdown, but members of his family did not intimate at that time that his life was in danger.

The strain to which Mr. Perkins succumbed is believed to have been the result of influenza and pneumonia contracted while serving with the Y. M. C. A. in France during the war.

George Walbridge Perkins, for ten years a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Company, was reputed to have first suggested to and persuaded "big business" to adopt profit-sharing, insurance, service bonuses, sick benefits and old-age pensions.

It was Perkins who was also said to have inaugurated the plan which permitted employees of the United States Steel Corporation and the International Harvester Company, in both of which he was at one time an executive, to purchase stock on installments and at less than market value on the assumption that "industrial justice is the most profitable of investments, that justice promotes peace, peace promotes prosperity and that the workmen's prosperity is necessary to the prosperity of the business man."

Mr. Perkins was born in Chicago, January 31, 1862, a descendant of Jacob Perkins, an English ancestor who settled in Boston in 1631. His father, George W. Perkins, long engaged in the shipping industry at Buffalo, was later a pioneer in the life insurance field. The son entered the insurance business in Chicago when 15 as a clerk, became a bookkeeper, an agent and subsequently manager of a Cleveland office. He went to Denver and in 1903 was made Vice President of the New York Life Insurance Company. His achievements attracted the attention of the elder Morgan, and in 1900 he was invited to become a member of the Wall Street firm. In this capacity he negotiated a number of big foreign loans. He remained with J. P. Morgan & Company until 1910, meanwhile becoming a director of numerous large corporations including the steel and harvester companies, a number of railroads and the International Mercantile Marine Company.

Mr. Perkins married in 1889, Miss Evalina Ball, a daughter of Flamen Ball, of Cleveland, O., to whom two children were born, Dorothy and George W. Perkins, Jr., the latter of whom was a lieutenant in the American Expeditionary Force.

SENATOR HARDING ACCEPTS CHALLENGE

Referendum on Peace Treaty
Says Presidential Nominee

Expresses Belief That Republican Stand Will be Upheld

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, June 18.—President Wilson's challenge to submit the peace treaty to a referendum of the American people was accepted today by Senator Harding, the Republican presidential candidate.

"I am sure" said Senator Harding, "the republican party will gladly welcome a referendum on the question of the foreign relationship of this republic and the republican attitude of preserved nationalities will be overwhelmingly endorsed."

Senator Harding's statement was in reply to the interview with President Wilson published today in which the President discussed the league of nations and the republican platform.

Geo. Clark, of Canton, Ohio, chairman of the Ohio State Republican Advisory committee called on Senator Harding today to lay before him plans for the Ohio campaign.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, June 18.—Indorsing in the main the action of the Republican National Convention, Herbert Hoover, in a letter to friends, made public today after he had conferred with Senator Harding, called upon all elements of the party to support the national ticket at the polls.

Mr. Hoover declared that the "greater part of the Chicago platform is constructive and progressive," and that "nothing prevents the compromise plank on labor, the league, etc., from being given a forward looking interpretation."

He added, however, that "some things, including a reorganization of our election expenditures and the primaries are not adequately dealt with."

"Nothing could be more disastrous," he continued, "than the developments of several party organizations representing every group in the country. If we should come to this position we shall be entirely ruled by log-rolling minorities or sterile political coalitions."

"If the Republican party is not to be irrevocably split," declared Mr. Hoover, "I cannot conceive that Senator Harding will for one moment submit the administrative side of the government to the domination of any group or coterie."

Mr. Hoover in this connection said the Senator had stated to him that "the views of both the conservative and progressive wings of the party would be fully represented in the administration" and "that he represented no particular group."

BALTIMORE, MD., JUNE 18.—(Associated Press)—Speaking at a dinner given here last night by the Maryland branch of the English Speaking Union of America, at which he and Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador, were guests of honor, former President Wm. Hand and Leg When Train Passes Over Him.

(By Associated Press)

Excelsior Springs, Missouri, June 17.—George M. Underwood, who lost a hand and a leg last night when two bandits tied him to a railroad track five minutes before a train passed, today told the story of his experience and denied that the men had any motive that he knew of except robbery. Underwood is expected to recover.

Underwood, in relating this story, said he was tied to the railroad tracks by strands of barbed wire following being robbed, after one of men had suggested killing him outright.

"I heard the rumble of the approaching train, I tried to scream, but rage in my mouth throttled my voice."

"As the engine came within a few rods of me I threw all of my strength into another attempt to escape. My right hand was free at last and I tore the gag from my mouth, screaming. Then I loosed my right leg and swung partly free from the track, but my left foot and hand were too tightly bound to be released."

"Something seemed to sting my entire body. I supposed I fainted for a moment, but soon I was screaming again. A farmer came from some where and helped untie the barbed wire which was still partly strung around my body."

President Says He Has Aided
No Candidate For Democratic Choice.

(By Associated Press)

New York, June 18.—President Wilson's nine months of illness "have neither daunted his spirit nor impaired in the slightest degree his splendid intellect," according to the New York World, which today published a copyrighted interview of its Washington correspondent with the President.

Within the last two months, the correspondent says, the President has gained more than twenty pounds and his ultimate complete recovery is assured.

During the three hour interview at the White House, says the correspondent, the long discussion of current topics and issues showed that the President "expressed himself with characteristic Wilsonian vigor."

The President told the correspondent, in discussing the political campaign, that the league of nations was the dominant issue, and he expects the Democrats at San Francisco to repeat his challenge for a referendum on the league.

The issue is "too deep for political skulduggery" the President is quoted as saying. The President was particularly vigorous in attacking the republican platform.

"The Republican National Convention," said the President, "was controlled 'by interests especially and scientifically Prussian in inspiration and method.'"

President Wilson told the correspondent he had not aided any candidate for the nomination at San Francisco.

In discussing the President's physical condition the correspondent said "his face is not distorted in the slightest degree. The Wilson face is much the same as it was, though it bears the impress of great physical suffering."

The President walked with a slight limp and used a cane, according to the correspondent.

NEW INDUSTRY IS UNDER WAY EMPLOYS SCORE

Washington Metal Products Company Draws First Metal This Week.

Will Open Full Capacity Monday, Making Grey-Iron Castings of all Kinds.

The Washington Metal Products Company, occupying the foundry of the stove factory plant, is now under way, and Monday will open to full capacity with present equipment.

The plant, which will produce grey iron casting of all kinds, starts with a force of 18 to 20, mostly from Springfield, Toledo and Detroit, with places available for a number of local men within a short time.

The fire was started in the cupola Wednesday and the first metal was drawn Thursday, with a second drawing Friday.

The first two or three days are being devoted to thoroughly testing out the equipment and making any changes necessary, preparatory to opening to full capacity first of the week.

The firm which is headed by J. D. Boone, of Detroit, a practical foundryman, has been unable to obtain all necessary equipment, and a short time ago a temporary blower was installed until the larger and more modern blower arrives.

When all equipment arrives and is installed the capacity will be greatly increased.

The output has been contracted for, to a very large extent, and at the present time the bulk of the castings will go to the Robbins & Myers company, at Springfield.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF MRS. EZRA HYER

Quiet and unassuming, in keeping with the life led by the deceased, were the funeral services of Mrs. Ezra Hyer, held in Mt. Olive church Wednesday afternoon.

Rev. W. J. Elliott, of Bellefontaine, Ohio, a former pastor, assisted by Rev. Floyd Gale, of the M. P. Church, conducted services of beautiful tribute to the dead and consolation to the living.

The hymns, "Asleep in Jesus," "Jesus Lover of My Soul" and "Nearer, My God to Thee" were sung.

Following the services a long line of autos proceeded to the Washington cemetery where interment was made.

The pallbearers were four brothers, Rev. J. F. Henkle, Messrs. Lossen Henkle, Noah Henkle, Jesse Henkle; and two brothers-in-law, Mr. W. L. Dowden and Mr. John Cohagan.

There was a wealth of beautiful flowers from a host of relatives and friends, including special designs from the Ladies Aid of Mt. Olive church, Orman Motor Co., Sears, Nichols Co., K. of P. Lodge and Pythian Sisters.

Relatives who came from a distance were: Mr. Noah Henkle, Yorktown, Ind.; Mr. Jesse Henkle, Springfield, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Dowden, Sabina, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. John Cohagan, South Charleston, Ohio; Mr. Thomas Thompson, Springfield, Ohio; Mrs. Minnie Patton, Springfield, Ohio; Mrs. Geo. DANGEROUS TURN ON LEWIS PIKE

Attention has been called by many persons to the dangerous turn existing on the Lewis Pike, just outside of this city, where the road makes an abrupt turn and the corner of a fence projects so that the turn is very dangerous.

Frequent users of the road suggest that the county commissioners be asked to purchase enough ground at the turn to eliminate the present dangerous condition.

It is pointed out that the road is one of the direct arteries leading into the city and through Fayette county, and that the road invariably is in bad condition at the turn, thus adding to its dangers.

PLAN FOR LARGE CROWD AT ANNUAL DAY OF PLEASURE

As the biggest picnic in Fayette County looms nearer, the committee in charge is adding finishing touches to plans for taking care of the largest crowd ever assembling at the annual Fish and Game Protective Association picnic.

The Collins grove, on the Duane Vista road, eight miles southwest of this city, was picked for the picnic because of its many unusually desirable features for such an event, and the committee in charge has completed a survey so that it is now known where every stand will be placed; every contest will be staged, and where every automobile will be taken care of.

Nothing is being left undone to make the event the banner picnic of the association, and the hundreds of members and their friends who may become members will be cared for properly.

The entertainment committee has arranged for a program that will delight everyone, and the big affair will last from morning until night.

As usual on similar occasions, virtually all business in this city will be suspended and work on the farm will be curtailed while the weary business man and farmer mingle together in one day of royal enjoyment.

RUMANIA NOW VERY PROSPEROUS

Bucharest, (By Mail)—If ever Rumania felt she was poorly compensated for her part in the war, the feeling must now be removed. Not in many years has the country been so prosperous. One must go back to the days of old King Carol and Carmen Sylva to find a parallel to the present conditions of material welfare among the people.

The scenes of gaiety, animation and prosperity in Bucharest can find their counterpart only along the boulevards of Paris. The habits of the gay metropolis—the artists, sculptors, students and savants that gave it so much of its Bohemian atmosphere in days gone by—have come back. With them have come strange faces from the newly acquired provinces and from Austria and Germany.

The streets of Bucharest are crowded with flashily dressed men and sumptuously attired women, just as in pre-war days. The stores display great stocks of pastries, confections, cosmetics, perfumes, silk stockings, expensive lingerie, rich jewels and other luxuries. The fashionable restaurants and cafes are always full. The theatres are taxed to capacity.

The old era of wine and song, of laughter and levity, of powder and paint, is coming back. Bucharest is trying hard not only to live up to its former reputation, but to justify its claim to be called "the Paris of the Balkans."

LONDON BEGINS TO MAKE CHANGE

(By Associated Press.)

London, (By Mail)—London, which travellers maintain changes more slowly than any other great capital, is yielding to the necessity of providing for continued influxes of population. There are many indications that the city is on the eve of an unprecedented era of rebuilding.

Instead of stretching further into the beautiful country lying immediately outside its bounds, the predicted building boom is likely to be a process of tightening up and levelling up, by better utilization of wasted spaces and acceptance of the American skyscraper idea.

Evidences of the last named influence are to be seen today along London's newest downtown thoroughfares—Kingsway—near the Strand. Here a number of buildings, either built by Americans or designed for American occupancy, are in the process of construction. Shortage of skill-men in the building trades and hindrances due to England's leasehold system are the main handicaps, but the fact remains that London is verging toward marked physical changes.

Prior to Moving Here.

Fayette county has lost one of her prominent and successful farmers and Washington C. H. one of her highly esteemed citizens and sterling men in the death of Wilbur W. Fenner, which occurred at the home on North North street at seven o'clock Thursday evening, following two years of failing health. The serious heart trouble and ensuing complications from which he had suffered, developed alarmingly during the last six months, and every effort of expert medical skill proved unavailing to prevent fatal results. At a time of life, when he could well have been at his greatest usefulness and activity, being but fifty-five years of age, Mr. Fenner received the eternal summons and peacefully answered the call, his crossing the bar a source of deep sorrow to his family and a widely extended circle of friends, who are sympathizing deeply.

Surviving him are the widow, three daughters, Mrs. Edna Brock, Gladys and Louise, and one son, Selsor; Mrs. Charles Griffith is a sister. The happiness, comfort and well being of his family were the continual objects of Mr. Fenner's deepest interest and the home circle is sadly broken.

Wilbur W. Fenner was born and raised in Highland county, coming to Fayette when quite a young man, to teach the Wisler school in Paint township. While engaged there he met his wife, who was Idel Selsor, daughter of Mrs. Electa Selsor, of this city. After his marriage Mr. Fenner continued to reside in Paint township, with which the Selsor family had long been prominently identified, and until his removal to this city, ten or twelve years ago, was one of the foremost residents of that section. Identified with all of its interests and progressive in his large farm operations. While always retaining his interest in Paint township, Mr. Fenner's strong individuality readily won for him recognition in this city and he became a part of the community life, always heartily in support of those things highest and best for up-right standards of living.

Mr. Fenner was a devout member of the M. E. Church from his boyhood. When residing in Paint township he was active in the work of Union Chapel M. E. Church, and Superintendent of the Sunday School. During his residence in this city he was no less zealous in the work of Grace M. E. Church, active in its various branches, and especially the Men's Bible Class, and giving gladly to its service both in time and means.

The wife and children were all with Mr. Fenner in his last hours, his daughter, Gladys, having been graduated from the Ohio Wesleyan University and returned home but a couple of days before.

Funeral announcement will be made later.

FARMERS AND GRAIN TRADERS DIFFER IN VIEWS ON NEW RATES

(By Associated Press)

Washington, June 17.—Farmers and grain traders presented differing views before the Inter States Commerce Commission today as to application to grain and grain products of the increased freight rates asked by the railroads of the country.

Urging the commission to reach no decision which discriminated against agriculture, or in favor of any other industry, B. Needham of Lane, Kansas, representing the Kansas State Grange and the Kansas Agricultural Council, opposed and flat rate increase on grain.

"Farmers do not ask discrimination in rates on farm products," Mr. Needham declared, "but we do vigorously protest against discrimination in favor of any other commodity, and we wish to express our disapproval of these demands heard here in which narrow commercial or sectional interest have been seeking selfish advantages."

IRISH TROUBLE MORE AGRARIAN THAN POLITICAL

(By Associated Press)

Dublin, (By Mail)—In several of the western counties of Ireland, disturbances are now more agrarian than political. The Sinn Fein seeks to control the land movement and prevent it getting out of hand. It has been decided that nobody shall be attacked or his cattle driven to make him sell part of his land unless he possesses more than 500 acres. This is a very exceptional amount for any tenant to hold so that the agitation in future will be directed solely against landlords and ranchers.

Proclamations have been issued in the disturbed counties in the names of their Parliamentary representatives forbidding claimants to land to act in the name of the republic. They point out that many of the claims which have been made are without foundation, and only serve to create ill feelings between those who ought to be friends and comrades, which is another way of saying that even good Sinn Feiners are being squeezed.

Machinery is set up for the arbitration of claims, which in future are to be sent to the registrars of district courts set up under the authority of the Dail Eireann. Courts on these lines though without the formal authority, of the Dail Eireann, have for some time been functioning in Galway and other counties. Their decisions have not infrequently been in favor of the owner of the land against the claimants.

The Farmer Does Big Things

THE world that lives in towns and cities little grasps the magnitude of the farmer's task in feeding them. How many furrows are turned, how many swaths of grain are harvested, how many bundles are bound and shocked, that the world may have bread! Take just the little matter of twine. If the yearly output of the American mills of the International Harvester Company could be tied end to end and wound around the earth at the equator, it would girdle the earth 9,335 times. If the strands could be wound side by side close together, twelve to an inch, they would make a band around the globe 65 feet wide, over half as wide as the Panama Canal at the locks, or nearly the width of the Harvester Building.

Think of putting this amount of twine through the binders of America, clicked off a bundle at a time! And harvesting is only one of the farmer's jobs.

We are the Fayette County Dealers in this high grade twine.

Slipping The Noose

A court ruling has put an end to the prosecution of The American Woolen Mills Company and its president on a charge of profiteering. Accused formally by indictment of exacting an unjust and unconscionable profit from the consumers by taking undue advantage of market conditions, there is to be no trial even.

The charge against The Woolen Mills Company and its officials was predicted on a statement of facts disclosing the sudden acquisition of riches which made the tales of Alladin's lamp seem tame indeed.

Millions made in woolen cloth and dividends declared in percents running up in the hundreds and all because clothing prices kept going higher and higher.

The court holds that no trial can be had on the charge and the defendants are bid to proceed with their pastime of piling up unearned millions. The people have no recourse, the accused are outside the scope of the Lever law's provisions, secure from all danger of even facing trial. Why?

Because the defendants deal in cloth and woolen fabrics, they do not make "wearing apparel" and the Lever law only provides for the control of those who deal in wearing apparel. It does not ban those who control the fabrics.

One or the other—the court or congress—has bungled wretchedly. Either congress must stand accused of not knowing how to write a law to protect the people or else the court is unable to read correctly and interpret laws.

Looks like either congress or the court has made a mockery of justice and, as usual, the people suffer.

Cherry Time

If you are fortunate enough to have a cherry tree on your home lot this year, or one of your near neighbors has one, you will, in the first place, have had the joy of seeing an abundant crop of fine cherries coming to that full ripe red color among the brilliant green leaves of the tree. You will have had the joy of watching, day by day, nature's process, sun and the shower's ripening the fruit, then the joy of contemplating the finished task, the fully matured crop and, all the while, you will have dreamed of the cherry pie, that luscious creation of the housewife's planning and construction, which, served to you with the tender cherries cooked in sugary syrup and imprisoned between crisp crusts of flaky white, all floating in yellow cream—well then is when this old world of ours, with all the people in it,—is all right, when there is no such thing as trouble and everything and everybody looks all right. But even so, you can still obtain joy from the faithful old cherry tree by watching the robins about it. Chemists of the dry cohorts have not advised us yet, but from the way the robins throng about the cherry tree, the late hours men folks of the robin families keep, who in spite of the insistent calls from their "better halves" delay their home-going for just one more "small one" it looks very much like there was enough kick in the cherries to account for popularity with the robins.

Maybe We'll Listen Now

Now that he has become the nominee of a great political party for president of the United States we may expect people to give more attention to the utterances of Senator Harding. Speaking of the necessity for normal thinking and acting, Senator Harding says:

"Certain fundamentals are unchangeable and everlasting. Life without toil never was and never can be. There can be no excellence without great labor. Lowered cost of living and increased cost of production are an economic fraud."

There is nothing new about that utterance. It has been made times without number by thinking men—statesmen and business men and by modest private citizens, during the last troubled eighteen months.

The reason it is again referred to is that the truth is briefly stated and with the hope that now since it is made by a presidential nominee it will be given more serious consideration than if made by only a senator from Ohio or by a very able editor from a small Ohio city.

POETRY FOR TODAY

FOR REMEMBRANCE

A long, hoarse blast,
The brazen din
Of a thousand whistles—
A transport's in!

Blare of trumpet,
Rattle of drum,
In faded khaki
The victors come.

Confetti whitens
The streets below,
Wild, sun-smitten,
Like swirling snow.

The crowds are frantic,
They laugh and cry,
They wave, they shout,
As the boys pass by.

Arches of triumph,
Flags at half—
Was it an age
Or a year ago?

Click of a crutch,
Tap of a cane,
Two pale young soldiers
Limp by through the rain.

COLONEL HARVEY WAS REAL CHIEF OF CONVENTION

Editor The Leading Figure In Harding Conference

Also Brought About Complete Repudiation of Wilson's League of Nations.

BY MARK SULLIVAN
(Copyright 1920)

Chicago, June 17.—At the beginning of the Republican Convention your correspondent described it as leaderless. During the course of it, Murray Crane of Massachusetts was described as apparently coming to a position of leadership. In order to correct the record and complete it, it is now necessary to say that Mr. Crane did not achieve leadership.

His effort to make the convention endorse ratification of the League of Nations failed utterly. If leadership consists in imposing your thought on others, then so far as any one person dominated the thought and action of the convention, that person was Col. George Harvey. He was the leading figure in bringing about the convention's complete repudiation of Mr. Wilson's League of Nations, and he was the leading figure in the conference which resulted in the nomination of Senator Harding.

All except the youngest readers will recall that Col. Harvey, at that time a Jeffersonian Democrat, was more responsible than any other one person for starting Woodrow Wilson on his way from Princeton University to the White House, which function of friendship was followed by what Col. Harvey and his friends considered a conspicuous lack of appreciation on the part of the beneficiary.

The role played by Col. Harvey in this Republican convention will be a surprise to the public generally. The juxtaposition of this fact with the other facts here set down is so certain to be received with divers emotions in divers places as to justify the recording of them as a contribution to contemporary history.

FARM NOTES

Plant Lice Again With Us

Plant lice in various colors which annually cause considerable loss to garden crops are with us again. There presence is generally first noted by a curling up of the leaves, which they attack on the under side.

The spray sold in the form of nicotine sulphate is the best treatment for all plant lice on garden crops, says T. H. Parks, extension entomologist of the Ohio State University. When it comes in contact with the bodies of the lice it kills them in from one to four hours. It is best to use a little soap in the spray to make it stick to their bodies and spread over the plant. Use 1 spoonful of the nicotine sulphate and 1 cubic inch of laundry soap dissolved in a gallon of soft water. This must be applied with good pressure and to the under side of the leaves. The lice cannot be killed unless the spray comes in contact with their bodies.

Shrubs Need Pruning

"Prune the spring flowering shrubs soon," says Prof. A. C. Hottes, floriculturist at the Ohio State University. "If one notices the spires, golden bells, weigelas, lilacs and bush honeysuckles, one will see that the blooms have appeared upon the tips of the branches which were produced last year. Beneath these flowers there are strong growing shoots starting at the present time. Therefore, as soon as the shrubs finish blooming they should be pruned back to these vegetative shoots in order that the

RANDOM NOTES

SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

The big ball room of the Masonic Temple has been the scene of brilliant and beautiful affairs in great number but never has it staged anything like the "Children's Party" of Thursday—a new departure in line with similar affairs in many large cities and launched by the young Masons of the Masonic Social Club as an annual party.

All children of Masons under twelve years of age and their mothers were invited between the hours of two and five in the afternoon and the children over twelve invited with their parents to participate in the evening dance. Both affairs were elaborately planned, and the same things introduced to the delight of the children, entertained the older folk in the evening and proved that they were but "children larger grown."

Almost a hundred children assembled for the afternoon party and the hall, with its gay decorations and balloons floating everywhere, to the youngsters special delight, presented a beautiful sight. The littlest tots led off in a grand march and the long line of children, in gala dress, trooped happily after. There march was led very cunningly by tiny Mary Blessing Chapman.

And then the fun began. Fancy caps, squaker balloons and snappers were given the children and pandemonium broke loose. They danced and they marched, they chased the balloons gleefully and they played all kinds of fanciful games under the direction of a special committee in charge. The funniest game of all was the "candy on the string" contest, in which Helen Rodecker and Russell Brown won the prizes after a desperate struggle with Enid McClure and James Lipsett.

The tiny tots were seated on the floor for refreshments, which were very popular and the older ones stood around long tables.

It was a great success all through and managed with splendid efficiency by the special committee, Mrs. Lura H. Robinson, chairman, Miss Anna Bell, Mrs. Henry Sparks, Mrs. Ruth Clark, Misses Emily Palmer, Dorothy Fullerton, Fern Sunkle and Margaret Christopher.

The children after having absolutely "the time of their lives," responded to the hint of the "Home Sweet Home" waltz and left the hall for its transformation before the evening party.

At night the dance presented a gay carnival scene, with a wealth of floral decoration, through which gleamed electric bulbs in myriad colors, in the background, and hundreds of balloons suspended from the ceiling over the dancers.

Over three hundred formed in the grand march at nine o'clock, led by Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hicks, and at its close maids and matrons and their escorts laughingly donned Mardi Gras caps which added piquancy to the scene—the men's caps bore the Masonic emblem. They were also given the same squaker whistles as had earlier been bestowed upon the children and were just as noisy, every one entering into the spirit of play and the slogan laissez-faire.

Pictureque to the last degree was the circle during which serpentine confetti was thrown and the dancers wound in and out through a maze of color, and the moonlight dance following exceedingly pretty.

Merriment rose in increasing waves as the dance progressed and confetti on the string" contest, in which Helen Rodecker and Russell Brown won the prizes after a desperate struggle with Enid McClure and James Lipsett.

The tiny tots were seated on the floor for refreshments, which were nished the music and it was fine, both in pep and smoothness. This home orchestra is constantly growing in favor.

A buffet lunch was served towards midnight.

The Social Club Committee, Charles Brown chairman, Glenn Rodgers, Walter Ellis, Herman Fry, Secretary, were the subjects of continuous congratulation upon the entire success of the afternoon and evening parties and the initiative displayed in their introduction into the club series.

There were a large number of out of town guests, especially from nearby towns.

The following excerpts from the Cincinnati Enquirer's account of the Nonnez-Palmer wedding will be read with interest by the bride's many friends in her home town.

"The exquisite color scheme and the effective bridal procession at the wedding Tuesday night of Miss Anne Palmer, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Palmer, of Avondale, and Mr. Henri Nonnez, only son of M. and Mme. Alfred Nonnez, were distinguishing features of this happy occasion, which took place at 8 o'clock in the spacious Avondale Presbyterian Church, on Reading Road, the pastor emeritus, Dr. Charles Frederick Goss, officiating before a bank of spreading palms, in which the flicker of many seven-branched candelabra was most artisticly sentinelled by tall floor vases overflowing with white peonies and Bernada Hiles.

"The maids and men of the bridal party, Misses Katherine Rogers, of Los Angeles; Katherine Rogers, of Hamilton; Ida Crothers and Rachel Houston, of Springfield, and Messrs. Charles Knowlton, Horton Stanley, John Reese and James Guy Jones, preceded the bride down the twin aisles of the nave crossing before the organ loft to form a tableau about the bride and groom. Each of the maids were gown in a fascinating frock of pale pink georgette crepe, just the tint of the Aaron Ward roses of her bouquet, this foundation being veiled in orchid-tinted crepe, the drapery of a bit farthingaled over the hips, where sprays of satin roses in the tones of the gown outlined the bouffant skirt. Hats of orchid-tinted meline, upturned above the brows, completed this fetching toilette, which finished in a soft bow behind from which fell a narrow fish-tail train of pink georgette. Their flowers were of Aaron Ward roses and forget-me-nots.

"The maid of honor was the bride's cousin, Miss Jean Dawes, of Chicago. Her gown of flesh-tinted georgette crepe was topped by a hat of forget-me-not blue meline, the crown encircled by sprays of satin roses and ostrich tips, her narrow belt of ribbon being of the same tones. Her flowers were deep pink roses shading to red. Mr. John Quinn was best man, and like the ushers wore the bride's favor in his buttonhole.

"The bride, who is very fair wore a becoming gown of ivory satin, bouffant at the hips, the top and sleeves of precious lace that had graced the wedding gown of her mother. Among the folds of the bodice there sparkled a gift of the groom a bar of diamonds set in platinum. Her veil of finest silk net, which enveloped her like a rainbow cloud as the light caught its sheen had been worn by her cousin, Miss Anne Quinn some years ago in Paris, when she was married to an Englishman. It was held to the long court train by sprays of orange blossoms, like tiny butterflies.

"An informal reception for the relatives and close friends of the bride and groom was held at the residence after the ceremony.

"On their return from their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Nonnez will reside for the summer in the elder Nonnez's apartment in the Navarre."

Mrs. Clara McCoy, Mrs. Eva Braden Mrs. Harve Smalley were hostesses to the regular meeting of the Good Hope W. C. T. U. Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. McCoy extending the hospitality of her country home for the meeting.

Thirty women were in attendance, responding to the roll call with scripture verses. The President, Mrs. Laura York, who was in charge of the program, gave readings from the Union Signal, and Mrs. McCoy read an interesting paper on "The Training of Fathers." Miss Charlena Smith's recitation was very entertaining.

Each member of the Union pledged herself to get a new member or pay a forfeit into the treasury. It was also decided to pay three dollars into the County Treasury, and five dollars to the Armenian fund.

The W. C. T. U. Benediction closed the program. The next three meetings will be held at the homes of Mrs. John York, Mrs. Hugh Smith and Mrs. Hugh Sollars.

Summer flowers artistically arranged were used in decorating the spacious rooms of the McCoy home, and delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The Thursday Euchre thoroughly enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. S. E. Boggs in their fortnightly season.

The home was doubly attractive from its artistic arrangement of flowers, baskets of crimson ramblers predominating and a bowl of deep pink roses and blue larkspur especially admired.

ACCUSES HARDING OF ONCE OWNING BREWERY STOCK

Prohibition Headquarters Throw Light On Ohio Senator On The Liquor Question

Supported Federal Dry Amendment and Enforcement Act

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, June 18. — Senator Warren G. Harding, presidential nominee, formerly owned stock in a brewery, according to a statement issued by Virgil G. Hinshaw, at prohibition national headquarters here today.

According to Hinshaw Senator Harding admitted at a dinner given by Thomas B. Felder at the new Willard Hotel in Washington two years and a half ago that he "had owned brewery stock in Ohio."

The statement adds that the senator later voted for the federal prohibition amendment and voted for the Volstead act over the President's veto. "It was difficult to tell from Mr. Harding's speeches just where he stood or in which direction his sympathy lay," Hinshaw added.

Senator Harding's secretary replied to a message from the National Prohibition Headquarters that the Senator would make no statement until after he had delivered his speech at Marion, Ohio, formally accepting the nomination.

PRESIDENT GIVES OUT INTERVIEW

Mr. Wilson Welcomes Referendum Fight on League of Nations and Characterizes Republican Platform an "Prussian."

(By Associated Press.)

New York, June 17. — President Wilson, in a special interview given to the New York World to be published tomorrow morning, said he was "extremely confident that the Democratic convention at San Francisco will welcome the acceptance by the Republican party to make the League of Nations the issue in this campaign."

"I am even more confident, the President said, that such referendum will confirm my faith that the American people desire it above anything else that a political party now may provide, and that they will condemn the Republican policy of denying them the consummation of their hopes. "No one will recommend a referendum on that issue more than I. The processes by which the Chicago platform was accomplished seemed to me to have been essentially and scientifically Prussian in inspiration and method. Instead of quoting Washington and Lincoln, the Republican platform should have quoted Bismarck and Bernhardi."

FAYETTE CLUB IS RECOGNIZED AT STATE MEET

Local Association is Heralded as One of State's Leading Organizations.

Local Delegates Return Friday Noon After Very Enjoyable Trip.

Zanesville, city of the "Y" bridge, and as one of the Automobile Club Convention orators styled it, "the city of great men, beautiful women and strawberries," royally entertained, Thursday, on the occasion of the State Automobile Club convention a dozen delegates from the Fayette Automobile Club together with six hundred representatives of the other clubs in Ohio.

The Fayette Auto Club did not fail to leave its name on the records of the convention. Classed with larger clubs of the state by the delegates and featured as the coming club of the state by the Zanesville papers and added distinction and honor came with the naming of Howard C. Allen, the club's live wire secretary, as a member of the Committee of Resolutions.

The Thursday session came to a dramatic close about five o'clock when the battle for next year's convention was fought out on the floor between a representative of the Youngstown club and the speaker for the Columbus club and the Columbus Chamber of Commerce. Youngstown won the 1921 convention.

In Memorial Hall Thursday night delegates and Muskingum Club members were entertained with a banquet prepared by the women of the M. E. Church of Zanesville. Zanesville papers estimated that close to one thousand persons were served.

During the time spent in Zanesville the Fayette delegates were entertained at the Clarendon Hotel. Those fortunate enough to be included in the Fayette Club delegates were C. P. Ballard, Hon. J. M. Willis, Nolin Hathaway, Ed Fite, Walter Craig, H. C. Ireland, Hays Dill, Howard C. Allen, W. H. Brown, O. W. Ellis, Glenn M. Pine, Robert S. Harper.

"I HAVE GAINED
SIX POUNDS BY TAKING DRECO."

Lancaster citizen had indigestion, dyspepsia, gas in his stomach; bowels constipated; no appetite for finest meal.

Two bottles of Dreco corrected these troubles, and now he feels 100% better, he says.

"I used to hate to sit down to the table, for even the best meal did not appeal to me. I didn't even want to look at food," declared Mr. C. C. Duckwall, a popular employee of Claffin Engineering Co., Lancaster, O.

"What little food I did eat would disagree with me, giving me pains; turned to gas and made my stomach very uncomfortable. My bowels kept bound up all the time, so I had to take physics all the time. I often had headaches and my sleep was broken and failed to refresh me.

"Two bottles of Dreco have made me feel 100 per cent better in every way. I have gained six pounds in weight; bowels act regular; have a big appetite and my stomach is able to digest food without forming gas or swelling up. Dreco is truly a remedy of merit, and I gladly tell people what it has done."

After taking Dreco it is noticed the bowels act regular every day; the stomach digests the food without leaving gas; the lazy liver becomes active; kidneys are strengthened; the appetite grows, and sleep becomes sound and refreshing. Dreco is pleasant to take and effects are prompt.

All good druggists now sell Dreco and it is being especially introduced here by

FAYETTE FARM BUREAU'S GOAL 1,000 REACHED

Formal Campaign Comes to An End Friday But Work Will Continue.

More Than 1,000 Members At $10 Per Year For Three Year Period.

The campaign committee of the Fayette County Farm Bureau announced Friday forenoon that by Friday night the goal of 1,000 members at 10 per year for a period of three years, would be reached, and passed, and that the formal campaign in Fayette county would be at an end, although quite a number of farmers who have not yet been seen or have not fully made up their minds, will be visited at a later date.

The county-wide campaign has been made quietly, and some of the State Farm Bureau Federation's best field men have assisted in the work of rounding up the large membership.

With completion of the drive announcement is made that a general meeting will be called within a few days and farm bureau plan discussed at length and plans made for a close co-operation with the State and National Federation of farm bureaus so that the full benefit of membership may be realized and work calculated to be of untold benefit to the farmer may be taken up with out unnecessary delay.

With a membership of 1,000 farmers at $10 per year, the organized farmers of Fayette county promise to be come a most potent factor in community affairs generally, and some radical changes are anticipated in connection with markets and farm business generally before the three-year period of membership has been near completed.

FARMERS OF ROSS PREPARE TO TAKE LIVE STOCK CENSUS

The Ross County Farm Bureau has decided to take its own census of live stock in Ross county, in accordance with the plan adopted by the Farm Bureau Federation, and every three months such a census will be taken so that reliable information regarding live stock will be at hand, instead of guess-work or statistics twisted to suit the fancy of the market manipulators.

In connection with this action, the Scioto Gazette says:

"The committee approved the 'Livestock Reporting System' as recommended by the Federation, and it will be put into effect at once. Under the system adopted, stock growers expect to be better informed as to the conditions of stock producing, the quantity on hand and ready for the market; that is, a census will be taken every three months and these quarterly reports will be sent to the state headquarters, and by it to the National headquarters at Chicago. Questionnaires will be sent out in all counties and in Ross 500 representative farmers and stockmen will receive these questionnaires and are expected to make prompt reports of the live stock on hand, the quantity ready for delivery, feeding and breeding, giving direct and first hand knowledge that will be valuable to be dispensed forthwith to all by the National Federation."

FISH HATCH WILL BE BELOW NORMAL

The hatch at the state fish hatchery near London will be below normal this year, according to the custodian, because of the very unfavorable weather during the spawning season, and it is expected the output will be under 250,000 fish—although the hatchery has produced as many as 600,000 fish during favorable seasons.

The average production of the little fellows, however, is about 250,000 to 300,000 and these are sent to various parts of the state for restocking streams.

For several days the public has been excluded from about the series of pools so that the fish may not be frightened from their "nests" and thereby still further reduce supply.

ALAND ISLANDERS WISH TO REUNITE WITH THE SWEDES

(By Associated Press)

New York, June 18.—The natives of the Aland Islands which lie between Sweden and Finland, at the mouth of the Gulf of Bothnia, are engaged in a lively agitation for reunion with Sweden, according to the advice received by representatives of the Swedish government in this country. "The population of the islands is about 12,000. Formerly they were held by Sweden but they were taken over by Russia 120 years ago. After the world war a delegation from the Aland islands presented to the Peace Conference a claim for annexation to Finland. A commission was appointed by the conference which recommended that the archipelago be neutralized under a guarantee of the League of Nations. Apparently this delegation did not faithfully represent the attitude of all the islanders for other Alanders have been agitating for self-determination and permission to join with Sweden since the beginning of 1918.

The Swedish government has taken up the subject with the Powers and asked the government of Finland to submit the question by referendum to the natives of the Aland Islands.

According to a statement drawn up by a Swedish premier, efforts to settle the matter between Finland and Sweden have failed and the Swedish government has appealed to the Peace Conference in support of the demands of those Alanders who desire to be annexed to Sweden.

"CAN'T RECOMMEND IT TOO HIGHLY."

Miller Was Forced By Stomach Trouble and Rheumatism to Give Up His Business.

"Nothing ever helped me until I got Tanlac, and that's saying a good deal, for I have been trying for eight years to get relief," said Robert Miller, 419 Market street, Louisville, Ky. Mr.
Miller who was in the hardware business in Detroit for ten years, was forced to retire eight years ago, on account of ill health, but is now feeling so well he is thinking of going back in business again.

"Yes, sir, for eight years before I began taking Tanlac I had suffered from rheumatism, and stomach trouble, said Mr. Miller. The Rheumatism was principally in my legs and back and was so bad I could hardly walk without a cane and if I stooped over the pain in my back was so severe it was all I could do to keep from crying out. My stomach was so badly upset nearly everything I ate hurt me, and I could not eat any solid food at all. I usually enjoyed my evening meal more than any other, but most of the time I dared not eat any thing at all at that time, for if I did I would suffer from it all night long. I had lost so much weight and was in such bad condition I was greatly worried over the outlook.

"One day I read where Tanlac had relieved a man who described his condition as being similar to mine, so I decided to try it myself, and I am surely glad I did, for I am feeling better now than I have in years. My rheumatism is all gone, my stomach doesn't give me any more trouble, and I can eat anything I want at any time of the day or night and never have a particle of trouble from it afterwards. I sleep well, have gained several pounds in weight, and as I am still taking Tanlac I am picking up and feeling better and better every day. After what Tanlac has done for me I don't think I can recommend it too highly."

Tanlac is sold in Washington by C.
S. Haver, in Lowell by Mason's Drug Store, in Jeffersonville by J. B. Davis, in Octa by I. W. Murphy and in Mil-edgeville, E. L. Ford Sons.—Advt.

BOY SENATORS WILL ASSEMBLE AT STATE HOUSE

Columbus, O., June 17.—The senatorial seats in the Ohio State Capital at Columbus will have a new occupants next fall, at least for two days, October 22 and 23. The new occupants of the senatorial seats may not measure up to the description "grave and reverend senators" but their deliberation will be of equal importance to the future well fare of the state as though they were burdened with years and gray hairs.

On October 22, eighty-eight children, one senator from each Ohio county will meet in the senate chamber in the first Thrift Congress ever held in the United States. Each senator will represent the children of his or her county in devising ways and means to bring forcibly before the people of Ohio the need of thrift, saving and safe investment in government securities.

TO OUST SCRUB HEN IN 63 COUNTIES

Poultrymen in 63 counties are joining with the Ohio State University College of Agriculture in a united effort to oust the scrub hen. This is to be effected principally through the culling of the farm flocks this summer and fall.

During June a series of 10 one-day culling schools is being held in different parts of the state for county agricultural agents. Instruction is being offered by poultry specialists from the agricultural college and Prof. O.
B. Kent of Cornell University, said to be the foremost authority on poultry culling.

During the summer the county agents and local poultry leaders will hold a series of culling demonstrations at different parts of their counties. Later, a certain week will be named when farmers in general will cull their flocks.

It is planned that records of egg production will be kept before and after the culling to show the efficiency of the work. It is expected that with the proper care and feed, along with the culling, the average hen will be made to produce 120 eggs during the year.

FARM BUREAUS TO GET SPEAKERS FOR INSTITUTES

Speakers, free of fee and free of expense, will be furnished farmers' institutes in Ohio by the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, it is announced by the Federation.

The number of speakers available for this purpose is limited, the Federation says, and the rule is, "first come, first served."

Owing to insufficient funds and the increased cost of conducting institutes a maximum of four state-aid institutes will be held in any county says, F. L.
Allen, superintendent of institutes and extension schools, at Ohio State University.

A small sum is provided by the state for a number of independent institutes.

Another purpose of the Federation, is to collect data regarding the state of crops, the amount of grain, food products, live stock and other farm produce, and to furnish that information to the farmers and the buying public.
